

For Work or Play, Redneck Leads the Way!

When you think about what all of us in the trailer industry do, it goes far beyond building and selling trailers and towing related components. What we really do, is provide our end users with the means to better pursue their ways of life. No matter if that involves boat and snowmobile trailers for recreation or hard working flat bed, utility and horse/ag trailers, to get the job done. At Redneck Trailer Supplies, we are proud of the role we play in making the lives of the trailering public easier, more productive and more fun. As North America's leading trailer parts supply company, we are constantly striving to provide you...our customer, with good value in the products you need, when you need them.

In the past, finding durable, dependable trailer parts required a great deal of time, effort and money; all of which could be better spent building trailers and taking care of your customers. With this catalog, our friendly, knowledgeable team of highly qualified people and convenient locations nationwide, Redneck Trailer Supplies can provide you with all of those parts, saving you time and money.

Over the past 30 years, we've become the industry leader, in part, by never losing sight of where we started. At Redneck, our values and commitment to customer service have remained the same over the years. We hold ourselves to the following goals, each and every day:

1. Have a full line of trailer parts in stock.

Having once been a trailer manufacturer, we learned first hand how important it is to have the parts you need, when you need them. A complete selection of trailer parts is available every day, just a phone call or fax away.

2. Have the ability to ship your order today.

Delays can be expensive. That's why, at Redneck, we work hard to ship today's orders today!

3. Ship your order correctly.

It doesn't matter how fast we get your order out if it isn't right. At Redneck, you are our #1 priority and we are determined to fill your order right the first time.

4. Be competitively priced.

Providing you with the best parts at the best possible prices is what keeps you coming back to Redneck. You won't find higher quality or better service anywhere, at any price!
